

PIZZA THE ACTION:

Pupils were able to get to grips with rustling up their own bread and mouth-watering pizzas. Employability and life skills students from Haywood Sixth Form headed along to the workshop at Hartshill's B-Arts Community Bakery.

The session comes as part of Jamie Oliver's Home Cooking Skills, which has seen students also learn how to bake bread. Susan Clarke, B-Arts' artistic director, said: "We were doing our own bread making and making pizzas for lunch."

"The kids had been here to learn to meet their full potential and learning to work in a team."

Pictured left to right - Susan Clarke, Matthew Castle, Charlotte Dudley and Adila Chamgez.

Picture: Lizzi Lathrop

